

04/29/2020 | AWF: ONLINE SEMINAR ON MATERIALS AND RESOURCE PLANNING AND PRODUCTION CONTROL

Maintain your capacity to act!

Every company has developed its own specific strategies to keep production planning and disposition capable of acting in the current situation.

The scheduling challenges also vary: Yesterday, it was perhaps a matter of somehow improving the supply from China, and today it is a matter of reducing procurement and production, since the buyers are not allowed to sell or the end customers are not allowed to buy. The online seminar "Disposition and Production Control" of the AWF Arbeitsgemeinschaft für Wirtschaftliche Fertigung, a cooperation partner of the MTM ASSOCIATION e. V., offers exchange of experience and new impulses for the following questions:

- How does a professional disposition look like now and in the future?
- How do we ensure the capacity to act of our disposition and production control in the present time?
- What challenges with regard to material supply and production do we have to deal with in the companies and what solutions / solution ideas have we found?
- Questions / topics from the group of participants

Date: 5 May | 8:30 a.m. - 6 May | 5:00 p.m.

Prof. Dr. Götz-Andreas Kemmner, Managing Director of Abels & Kemmner Gesellschaft für Unternehmensberatung mbH and expert in inventory management and material flow optimization, will lead the online seminar.

The offer is aimed at specialists and managers in the functions logistics, disposition, supply chain management, production, work preparation, production planning and control, industrial engineering, production management and controlling.
