

18.06.2020 | COMPANIES ARE ALSO USING WEBINARS FOR TRAINING WORLDWIDE

“MTM goes digital:” This motto from the early days of the digitalization wave at the MTM organization has taken on a whole new meaning in times of Covid-19. In addition to their range of e-learning services, the MTM Institute and MTM Academy have created a complete training program via webinar – now available for 202/21 – within a very short time.

“MTM goes digital:” This motto from the early days of the digitalization wave at the MTM organization has taken on a whole new meaning in times of Covid-19. In addition to their range of e-learning services, the MTM Institute and MTM Academy have created a complete training program via webinar within a very short time. The first training sessions have already been successfully completed and the feedback from participants is consistently positive. Above all, expectations that the training would feature a varied design, a more relaxed working atmosphere thanks to "time-equalized" sequences, interaction and practical relevance have all been met.

2020/2021: A mix of webinar, e-learning and face-to-face teaching

With the new training program, which is due to run until March 2021, Academy Director Dr. Thomas Finsterbusch and his team have put together an attractive mix of webinars with online exams, e-learning courses and face-to-face events that ensure the right package can be put together for every company and every participant – via One-MTM, the international partner network, anywhere in the world. The most recent example is tailor-made training via webinar for BMW staff in China. We have received requests for further training courses from South Africa, Brazil and the USA.

Interested companies should contact Dr. Thomas Finsterbusch, thomas.finsterbusch@dmtm.com.

New in the MTM Academy program: Qualify as an MTM-Practitioner (i.e. get the “blue card”) with an MTM-Logistics training course.

Nobody can predict how the Covid-19 situation will develop in the coming months, but one thing is certain: If the virus makes classroom teaching impossible, it will be offered as a webinar.

New: Qualify as an online trainer

Good news for MTM instructors who want to conduct in-house training via webinar: The MTM Academy now offers an online training qualification. Start date is 07.07.2020.

MTM download center for instructors

The team at the MTM Institute and IT administration at the MTM software house has set up a new download center for MTM instructors. There they can find:

- Instructional material in accordance with the current teaching license and additional teaching authorizations,
- Documents in various languages (on request),
- Testing films, and
- Sample solutions for all training courses.

To be able to access training documents as usual, MTM instructors have to register once or login to the download center with a recognized password.
