

04/23/2020 | IN-HOUSE MTM TRAINING COURSES - CUSTOMIZED PACKAGES

With the company-internal variant of the MTM training and the associated integration of company-specific subject areas, companies kill three birds with one stone: practical training, concrete project work and induction directly in the running company. In normal times? This works perfectly even in times of Corona: with individual training packages, perfectly tailored to the current conditions and needs of the company.

Which components of the training can be imparted via e-learning or webinars by an MTM instructor, how company-specific topics can be integrated and how practical parts can be completed, how the support by own MTM experts on site looks like and how a cross-location training can be organized - the colleagues of the MTM Academy advise on this. Talk to us.
